The first snow of the season in this locality fell on Monday morning. While there was considerable precipitation of the beautiful, it melted as fast as it hit the ground. At Cuba, Mo., late last Saturday night, Leslie Jones was shot and probably fatally wounded by Wesley Cheney, a well-to-do farmer living just outside of the city limits of Cuba. Jones had been paying attentions to Cheney's daughter, Mae, but had been ordered to discontinue his visits by the girl's father. On the night mentioned Jones entered Cheney's home through a second-story window by means of a ladder in search of his sweetheart, when he was discovered by Cheney, who fired at him with a revolver. Jones was struck three times, once in the head near the right eye and twice in the right side at the waist. His condition is critical. Young Jones is well connected, being the son of Morton Jones, a retired merchant of Cuba.

Some boys caught a strange bird in the woods near Hillsboro during the past week and brought it into town, where a great deal of curiosity and speculation as to its identity was indulged in. The specimen was of a dark green slightly intermixed with white and brown feathers. Its long legs and bill indicated that it was a water bird, but no one could tell its name. Among other names suggested was that of a stork, and when it was learned that there had been quite a number of the same species of birds brought in lately interest in the little stranger was intensified, some of the newly married men and busy old bachelors being particularly curious while the idea of the woods full of storks was not relished by any. The bird was finally decided to be a gallinule, and so all the excitement subsided.—Hillsboro Democrat.

The Town Lot Sale.

Notwithstanding the weather having turned raw and unpleasant there was a good local crowd in attendance at the lot sale in the new Townsend Addition last Friday afternoon, although the attendance of strangers was a failure.

In all forty-nine 50-foot front lots were sold, parcelled out as follows: W. T. Hunter, 1; John M. Hodgen, 3; Charlotte Hodgen, 1; M. E. Rhodes, 3; D. M. Greer, 2; L. F. Plank, 4; W. N. Woods, 2; East Bros., 1; F. E. McGready, 2; W. H. Miller, Jr., 6; M. A. Casey and Misses B. and M. Whelan, 2; J. A. Shields, 6; E. T. Eversole, 1; Henry Walton, 1; David Blagg, 1; J. W. Collins, 1; C. D. Smith, 2; W. D. Bryden, 1; A. C. Bryden, 1. The average price per lot was $121. The total value of all sold being $5,929. The sale was conducted under the auspices of the Townsend Real Estate Co., of which Mr. W. S. Townsend is local representative. He expresses himself as being well satisfied with the outcome of the sale.

Previous to the selling there was a one-hour concert by the Potosi Cornet Band and dinner served by the ladies of the Methodist church. The crying of the sale was done by two experienced real estate auctioneers from St. Louis.

This new addition to Potosi's town site is well located and several thousand dollars have been expended on it by the Townsend Real Estate Co. in laying it out, grading the streets, laying sidewalks, etc. Some of the earlier purchasers of lots in this addition have already begun to improve their ground with handsome homes, and there is no doubt but what future residents of Potosi will, to a large extent, seek that part of town to build their homes.
